A Paraphrase of the 55th Chapter of Isniah.

Brink and be blind with the spirit of lave; The banquet is ready, it comes from above

Some are excluded, the poor and the lowly. Alike with the rich, are invited to time; See manna descending from the regions of glory, Where God hath prepared for the weary a home

No money is needed, the banenet is free. Yes, come, there is winn, milk and honey for thee; fearl is so ample that millions may eat, And through countiess ages, to millions repeat Sent the Land, ye will find him while he is near; Let the wicked formice all their nine of the past,

The sure mercies of David, his servant, shall be The portion be gireth an hounteons and free; title the cil and the most they will never grow less. As thereig that descends to water the earth, So the word of the word shall be fruitful, and prove That his usme, and his nature, and purpose is Low

VARIETY.

An appeal to the women of America: For mercy's sake, let the poor clergymen alone. The Tures Degrees in Medical Treatment .-Positive, ill; comparative, pill; superlative, bill.

Whenever Lady Helland heard that's person of any consequence had said an ill word of her, she immediately invited him to dinner. "Mrs. Jones," said an observing young gentleman of five years, during a luli in the conversation, please int your teeth down again." It is the opinion of Miss --- that males are of no account from the time ladies stop kissing them as infants till they kiss them again as lovers. Relies of the English-Russian war are already being manufactured. In case the war doesn't come of they can be sold as relies of the latest terrible railway disaster. Speaking of breach of promise suits, the London Globe declares that blighted affections have a beautifying effect on the female countenance. Paste this on your looking glass. A young lady said a pretty good thing the other evening. She had many admirers among the limbs of the law, and on being asked how she escaped heart-whole, said she supposed it was owing to the fact that in a multitude of counsellars there is safety. A certain dramatic translator, introducing a wellknown comedian to Madame Vestris, said : "Ma dame, this is Mr. B---, who is not such a fool as he looks." "True, madame," said the comedian, and that is the great difference between me and my A beautiful girl said to a wit : "Why don't you talk smart things to me? You're as dull as a footman when in my company. Don't you know something to may to me?" "Oh," he replied, gazing upon her with admiration, "even a footman can always answer the belle." A bright little girl not long since was arging her mother to go up stairs and hear her say her prayers before retiring. Her mother, not finding it conveniout, told her that Jesus could hear them just as well. " But, mather, replied the little doubter, " Jesus ean't turn off the gas." The sexton of a parish church in County Armagh was about to lose his wife. She begged him to bury her in Tyrone, among her own kindred, forty miles away. "Indeed, Poggy," said be, "I'll try ye here ; but if ye give any trouble I'll take ye up and bury ye in Tyrone." A clergyman was once forced to say to a congregation that persisted in dropping buttons in the congregation box : " Brethren who wish to contribute buttons," said this financier, " will please not hatnmer down the eyes, for while that process does not increase their value is coin it does impair their use felness as buttons." Little Mary P's father had gone to Europe. During his absence she prayed continually for him, that God would take care of him and bless him. On his return she ceased praying for him, "Why don't you pray for father now?" asked her mother. " We have got him at home now, and we can take care of him surselves," was the reply. Last week he wrote to the old folks telling them he had married a lady with a very fine voice-a *- meszo-soprano of quite extraordinary compass." He received an answer from the maternal side of the house informing him that his lemented aunt was afflicted with something of that sort during her life, but had always found relief in placing a mustard plaster on the sole of each foot, and drinking a pint of dandelion tea.

A good story of Gibbon is told in the last volume of "Moore's Memoirs." The dramatic personse were Lady Elizabeth Foster, Gibbon the historian, and an emineut French physician—the historian and doctor being rivals in courting the lady's favor. Impatient at Gibbon occupying so much of her attention by his conversation, the doctor said crossly to him-" When Lady Foster is made ill by your twaddie I will care her." On which Gibbon replied. When Lady Faster is dead from your prescriptions I will immertalize ber."

"Albert Elward," said the Queen as they sat is the arbor discussing the probability of a change of ministers, " what reason is their to suppose that Lord Besconsfield is going to America ?" " To Amezica, mother, your Majesty?" said the dutiful ron in astonishment, " none in the world, surely !" " Yes, there is, Albert Edward-to America or some foreign country," and her Majesty's voice trembled. " Well, I give up, mm," said he. "Because, my son, he's any-gray Tory." "Oho-ho! yes, mother-that is, your Majesty-I was just going to guess it."

A cynic who recently attended a fashionable place of worship in America thus describes the singing :-"Worship was introduced, and the opening piece was a solo, faultlessly rendered by the leading singer accompanied by the organ, . Consider the lilies of the field.! And when she came to the application it ran thus : ' And yet I say unto youeven Solomon in all his glory-was not arrayed -like one of these (introducing the organ)was not arrayed (interlude) --- like one of these. And then she went back again, and asserted in the most emphatic manner: "I say unto you that even Solomon in all his glory-was not arrayed (pause) until I began to despair lest poor Solomon would never get his garments on."

"Rare Ben Jonson" was a man of the most social habits, who accommodated himself to the company be met with. An instance of this occurred when drinking with a few friends at a taveru he was in the habit of frequenting, and where he had run up a score. The landlord applied to him for the money ; but, knowing the talents of his guest, said he would forego the debt if Ben would tell him what would please God, please the davil, the company present, and blussif. Ben did not heeltate, but thus ad-Aressed his landford :--

"God is pleased what we depart from sin; The devil is pleased when we persist therein; There company's pleased when you draw good wine; And thou'd be pleased if I would pay thes thine," The landlord acknowledged the merit of the imprompts, capcelled the debt, and sent in an additional howl to keep up the hilarity, which Ben had thus happily provoked.
